

HAUTE RESIDENCE

Host The Ultimate Holiday Dinner At These Luxe New York Developments

December 16, 2019 by Natasha Bazika

Nothing is more stressful than making sure your home is prepared to welcome numerous friends and family members for a holiday party. Instead of using your own kitchen, luxury residential developments now offer residents access to exquisite private dining rooms and catering kitchens sure—many that even come with catering from the developments' restaurant partners— to make any holiday soiree a success.

77 Greenwich

Photo Credit: Binyan Studios

Located in the heart of Manhattan's "New Downtown," 77 Greenwich is a new luxury condominium with a boutique approach to upscale urban living, featuring show-stopping water views, architecture by FXCollaborative and interiors by the renowned Deborah Berke Partners—the firm known for the interiors at one of the world's tallest residential buildings, 432 Park Avenue. The building also boasts a sky-high suite of private club-inspired amenities aptly named Cloud Club 77. In addition to a double-height fitness center programmed by celebrity personal trainer Jay Wright, these penthouse-level spaces include a private dining room with a catering kitchen and an art-filled lounge with a fireplace—perfect for enjoying a cup of hot cocoa or a nightcap after a holiday feast.